

Corporate Finance

Corporate finance includes not only the buying and selling of businesses but also the financing and structuring of companies and unincorporated businesses.

Knowing the best and most efficient way of achieving these objectives is a very specialist and technical area, which requires the input of people who deal with these matters routinely.

The potential gains and losses for getting things right and wrong can be substantial and very difficult to put right.

Working with the Griffins Corporate Finance advisers will provide you with the following benefits:

- ✍ Sound advice and assistance with the structure and finance of new business start ups – getting it right at the beginning will save you time and money
- ✍ Help you evaluate potential acquisitions that your business maybe looking to buy – saving you time to concentrate on the propositions that best suits your requirements
- ✍ Carry out the necessary checks and 'due diligence' to ensure you are getting what you expect when you buy a business- protecting your investment
- ✍ Negotiate on your behalf with banks and other lenders for finance - enabling you to secure the best solution for your project
- ✍ Restructure finances during the life of a business – making your business work for you
- ✍ Help plan at an early stage your exit from the business – making sure you retire when you plan to
- ✍ Assist with the valuation of your business – ensuring you achieve the best deal
- ✍ Help find a buyer for your business and deal with the negotiations – saving you time and energy
- ✍ Look at alternative exit routes if its not appropriate to sell the business outright – giving you choice and return on your investment
- ✍ Work with our in house or external tax advisors to ensure most advantageous tax treatments – saving you tax and ensuring compliance

You will be able to get on with the running of your business and not get involved directly with the sourcing of finance or negotiating directly with the sellers or buyers of businesses.

The basis of our costs can be agreed with you in advance so that you have the peace of mind knowing at the outset what you are going to pay.
