

Stressed thinking about Your Employer Annual Return – P35 and P14's?

Almost all employers are now required to file their Employer Annual Return (P35 and P14s) online. The 2009-10 return must be filed by 19 May 2010.

Griffins can send your P35 and P14's for you, even if we do not do your payroll. If you are interested please contact us at payroll@griffins.co.uk

Penalties

If you send HMRC your Employer Annual Return (or part of your return) on paper or magnetic media, when you're required to file online, you may be charged a penalty.

The precise amount of the penalty depends on the number of P14s included in your return and is up to a maximum of £3000.

The penalty applies regardless of whether you've filed your return on time or late. And it will still apply even if you try to put things right by filing your return again online.
